Big Waves Pound Southland Coast

Heavy, 10-foot waves pounded sections of the Southern California coast Sunday in the vanguard of a weather front that may bring rain today.

Scores of bathers were periled by the breakers. Several were injured by waves at San Pedro.

Brisk winds and a powerful southeast swell swept four vessels onto the beach in Santa Barbara harbor. Largest was a 136-foot oil barge, the Flood Tide.

It and two other boats were pulled off by tugs but a 32-foot fishing craft, the Gunga Din, was reported damaged.

WAVES BEAT the Manhattan Beach pier so hard authorities considered closing it.

Chris Cook, 16, of 40101 Carolina St., San Pedro, was hospitalized with numerous abrasions suffered when he bounced along the ocean bottom at White's Point Beach when a wave hurled him from his surfboard.

JFK Hears McNamara on Skybolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reported Sunday to President Kennedy on his talks with British officials who are dismayed at prospective abandonment of the U.S. Skybolt missile.

The secretary returned from Europe about 1 o'clock Sunday morning and at noon went into conference with Kennedy. Also present at the White House session were Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric and George Bundy, the President's top adviser on national security matters.

THE SESSION lasted an hour and a half and at its conclusion it was announced McNamara will accompany Kennedy when the President flies to the Bahamas on Tuesday for two days of talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

There was no indication of an agreement on how to deal with the Skybolt problem, which will be high on the agenda in the Bahamas conference Wednesday and Thursday. There also were fresh signs Sunday that abandonment of the weapon would kick up a major row in Congress.

SEN. STUART Symington, D-Mo., said Sunday dropping of the Skybolt would doom the manned bomber force and stir up a bigger congressional storm than the Defense Department's refusal to go all out on developing the RS70—formerly the B70—as a 2,000-mile-an-hour bomber.

Symington said in a television interview that the Senate armed forces committee, of which he is a member, is 2 to 1 against shelving the Skybolt.

U.S. Orbits Space Debris Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States Sunday placed in earth orbit an Explorer satellite equipped to gather information about tiny bits of space debris that might pose dangers to space travelers and their vehicles.

The satellite, packed with instruments, was launched from the Wallops Island, Va., test site by the Federal Space Agency at 9:33 a.m. (EST). Shortly before 3 p.m., the orbit was confirmed and the spacecraft was officially labeled Explorer 16.

A spokesman said according to signals being received from the satellite all equipment and experiments aboard "appear to be operating satisfactorily."

If the systems continue working well, Explorer 16 will spend a year collecting tiny bits of cosmic "gravel" and relaying information about them back to earth.

Fire Sweeps Center

REHOBOTH BEACH, Del. (AP) — A roaring fire destroyed a 600-seat theater, a restaurant and two stores Sunday in the center of this seaside resort. Firemen said there were no injuries. The theater, used only during the summer tourist season, was vacant.

Order Fruit Embargo

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A 10-day embargo on the shipment of fresh fruit out of Florida was ordered Sunday by the State Citrus Commission.

The commission acted in emergency session to prevent shipment of fruit damaged by last week's cold wave. The embargo becomes effective tonight and continues through Dec. 27.

When this embargo expires, a new 14-day embargo on the shipment of freeze-damaged fruit will begin. Under the second ban, only fruit that can pass inspection by the state fruit and vegetable inspection division will be allowed to move.

2 Tankers Collide

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP) — Two tankers carrying petroleum products collided bow-to-bow in Delaware Bay Sunday during snow with a visibility of four miles, the Coast Guard reported. But there were no fires or injuries.

Altadena Hill Fire Roars Unchecked

Flames Break Barrier

ALTADENA (CNS)—A ram-paging brush fire in costly watershed land north of Altadena leaped a key firebreak Sunday night and threatened to sweep upward into some of the most rugged terrain in Angeles National Forest.

The roaring inferno in the Echo Mountain-Las Flores Canyon area blackened some 500 acres by 9:30 p.m. The hillsides were described as some of the most valuable watershed in the nation.

FOR SOME 500 U.S. Forest Service and county firefighters, it was a race against time.

Substantial rainfall was forecast for the fire area beginning early today.

The flames, however, jumped the key Sunset Ridge firebreak and threatened to race upward along a northwesterly course into virtually inaccessible terrain.

NO HOMES were in danger, but the fire raged out of control on all fronts.

Fire officials had ordered the massing of some 200 men and dozens of pieces of equipment along the Sunset Ridge firebreak in an effort to halt the advance into exceedingly treacherous terrain where firefighting operations would be virtually impossible.

BUT THE blaze broke through and spilled down into Millard Canyon, heading toward higher country.

Ten members of a U.S. Forest Service "hotshot" crew received burns on the Sunset Ridge stand when the flames suddenly were fanned toward them by wind.

None of the men were seriously hurt and all were pressed back into service following treatment.

THE BREAKOUT in Millard Canyon covered some 75 acres.

Firefighters were struggling to cut lines around the breakout perimeter and slow

Wife Is Shot Dead as Reunion Fails

By DICK EMERY

A try to "patch up for Christmas" the quarrel between a young husband and his wife ended tragically Sunday in Anaheim, with the wife dead and the husband booked for investigation of murder.

2 Alcatraz Escapees Captured

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two convicts broke out of Alcatraz Federal Penitentiary Sunday night but both were recaptured within three hours, one of them three miles away from "the rock" in the icy currents of San Francisco Bay.

The first escapee, D. Lee Parker, a Canton, Ohio, bank robber, was captured within 28 minutes after the breakout alert was issued at 5:47 p.m. Alcatraz employees found him shivering on a small out-jutting rock some 100 yards off the main island.

The second convict, John Paul Scott, 35, a Leitchfield, Ky., bank robber, was spotted floating in the bay by a group of teenagers at Fort Point, under the Golden Gate Bridge. The youths notified military police at the nearby Presidio.

Scott was pulled out of the water and rushed to Letterman Army Hospital. Attendants said he was under treatment for exposure but they were uncertain about the seriousness of his condition.

Their three children, aged 2 years, 3 years and 4 years, were taken home by relatives.

Police said Markus Raymond Senn, 24, of 6472 Santa Catalina St., Garden Grove, an aircraft technician, visited his estranged wife, Shirley June, 21, a petite blonde, at the home of her mother, 1802 W. Chanticleer St., Anaheim.

WHILE HER mother, Mrs. Theresa Gallant, and stepfather, Harold Gallant, were in the front part of the house with the three Senn youngsters, Markus, 2, Pauline, 3, and Kathy, 4, the husband and wife argued bitterly in a closed bedroom.

Senn, police said, apparently fired one shot through his wife's head with a .22-caliber pistol and ran from the house. Mrs. Senn was taken to Garden Park Hospital, where she died at 4:20 p.m.

A HALF-HOUR after the shooting, while police were broadcasting his description, Senn walked into the Anaheim police headquarters, with the pistol tucked under his belt, and said:

"I'm the man you're looking for."

Police Lt. Norbert Mang said the husband was arrested and was still being questioned when the wife died.

Gale Sinks Ship, One Man Saved

DEN HELDER, Holland. (UPI)—The 3,218-ton German freighter Nautilus sank in the storm-tossed North Sea Sunday within minutes after flashing an SOS. Of the 24 crewmembers, one man was rescued.

Rescue ships responding to the distress signals despite giant waves whipped up by hurricane winds picked up the crewman from a lifeboat. The bodies of 18 others, some wearing life vests, also were recovered and the search for the remaining five continued.

Winds of gale force and higher battered shipping in the Atlantic, the English Channel and the Irish Sea as well as the North Sea. Ashore, falling trees and collapsing buildings killed at least three persons and caused numerous injuries across Britain. Winds reached a recorded speed of 117 miles per hour in Scotland.

ON THE continent, 10 persons died in traffic accidents on ice-slicked roads in Bavaria. Heavy snow caused a train derailment in north Franconia in Germany but no casualties were reported.

Radio channels crackled with reports from ships caught in the fierce storm.

The 27-man crew of the 7,244-ton Honduras freighter Aristotelis had to abandon ship early Sunday when the vessel started to go down in a storm off the southwestern tip of Portugal. The Libran tanker Hydroussa picked them up safely according to radio messages received in Lisbon.

SHORTLY before dawn, the Nautilus, out of Bremen, flashed a distress signal from a position 15 miles northwest of the Dutch lights ship Trexel, off the northern Dutch coast in an area known to seamen as "the Raging Bowl."

A storm, measured at between 73 to 82 miles per hour, was raging. Within 15 minutes of the first signal, the Nautilus radioed "we are abandoning ship."

"There is evidence that most of the crew did not even manage to man the lifeboats," a coast guard spokesman said. Swimmers could not long survive in the icy seas, he noted.

The survivor was picked up by another German ship.

FRUGAL SCOT DEVICE

Whisky Guards Lay Eggs

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—The firm with the biggest stock of maturing whisky in casks on this island—30 million gallons of the stuff—is using geese to guard it.

The stock of whisky, valued at $950 million, is at Dumbarton, near Glasgow.

As web-footed members of the 27-strong security force goose-stepped arrogantly around outside the whisky stores, the firm's managing director, Tom Scott, explained the scheme.

"I was apprehensive about burglary at the isolated warehouses over an area of several square miles," Scott said. "We thought of dogs, but decided on geese."

THE CLINCHER was when Scott recalled that sacred geese roused the Roman guard when the Gauls tried to capture the capital at night.

Scott said the geese have been trained to be sensitive to people approaching the whisky stores. But they have learned to ignore the two watchmen.

If intruders approach, the cackling of the geese warns the two security men. The geese, Scott said, have sharper hearing than dogs.

The scheme has been so successful, he added, that U.S. security forces guarding nuclear installations in the Nevada desert have asked for details.

THE GEESSE ARE a white Chinese breed. They are smaller than the more common varieties, Scott explained that the idea of using geese as guards has a particular appeal to thrifty Scots.

"They are cheap, they eat grass, and they lay eggs."

The eggs, Scott said, are sold. The proceeds go to a home for disabled war veterans.

Durante Hits Police Car; Two Charges

CHICAGO (AP)—Comedian Jimmy Durante was booked on two traffic charges Sunday night after his automobile collided with a police squad car in the downtown area.

The squad car was slightly damaged.

Durante was charged with following too closely and driving without a driver's license. He posted $25 bond for appearance in traffic court on March 14.

L.A.C. SAYS: U.N. Delinquents

If the United Nations is to carry out its threats to force Katanga to give in to the Congo recognized government, it is apparent the United States will have to pay an even greater share of the costs. France and Russia have refused to pay anything toward this action. Many other smaller nations have taken the same position. This is all in violation of the World Court ruling. But not many of the U.N. members seem to care about legalities.

The Congo government has had a consistent record of encouraging the Communists. The rich mining district of Katanga was a part of the Congo before the Belgians were forced to retire and give that African country independence. But Katanga insisted that it should have a right to its own government in this new freedom. The United Nations disagrees and has a large military force—costing some $120 million a year—to enforce Congolese consolidation.

Now we are told the U.N. is about bankrupt because all the nations do not pay their share of the costs. The United States pays almost one-third of the ordinary cost. It has agreed to buy half of all the $200 million bond issue that is sold to help finance the operations. But even this is not enough. If the U.N. is to continue, it is evident it can do so only as a ward of the United States taxpayers.

When it is realized that the U.S. has only one vote in the 108-member U.N. Assembly, it raises the point as to how far we are going in financing an organization that is dominated by nations that contribute little or nothing to its operations. When the majority members are either Communist-dominated or "neutralists," to what extent are we justified in paying half or more of the bills?

Newly elected Secretary General U Thant says: "There are various issues like Berlin on which it may become imperative to reach solution on the basis of compromise and the principle of give and take." Referring to the change in Russia from Stalin, he says of Khrushchev, "He belongs to a different category of leaders—with a coherent philosophy of the world base don the thesis not of inevitability of war, but of the imperative competitive coexistence. We have very good reasons to believe that he does not want war. The West does not seem to appreciate the full significance of that obvious change."

One may ask, was this Khrushchev peaceful philosophy demonstrated in the ruthless murdering in Hungary? Was it shown in his sending missiles and bombers to Cuba—or his still refusing to agree to on-the-ground inspection to prove they have been removed? Mr. U Thant was one of the negotiators in the agreement to that effect—which has never been carried out.

Now the United States is again faced with more demands for money to finance the Congo attacks on Katanga. Katanga is friendly to the West. The Congo government has been largely ruled by Communists. It would seem reasonable that the United Nations be, in fact, a world organization fully financed by all the nations that are permitted to vote on its policies. It seems unrealistic that we continue paying most of the bills to finance programs voted largely by those who pay nothing toward their support.—LAC

Meredith Cited, 'Insulted'

(Compiled from Wire Services)
Negro student James H. Meredith said Sunday he was arrested on a traffic charge at Kosciusko, Miss., and treated "like a dog" by police.

"They cursed me, called me a 'Nigger,' ordered me to say 'Sir' to them and searched my car," Meredith said. "This kind of intimidation is deplorable."

The University of Mississippi student indicated he would stand trial on the charge rather than forfeit his bond.

Meredith, 29, said he was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way while driving Saturday night to his parents' home from a barbershop. He was released under $10 bond pending his scheduled trial Wednesday.

Police Chief Herbert Harvey declined comment. Meredith, whose admission to "Ole Miss" under federal court order last Sept. 30 touched off bloody campus rioting, said a police car was parked outside a barbershop where he got his shoes shined. He said the patrol car followed him through town after he left the barbershop and stopped him near his parents' home.

ACCUSED

A 25-year-old Iranian was accused Sunday of attempting to kidnap a former Austrian beauty queen at the Shahraz Dam near Hamadan, west of Tehran.

Police arrested Ezzat Shourin, who was alleged to have attacked 23-year-old Mrs. Victoria Alfrede, wife of an Austrian dam builder. Police said Mrs. Alfrede is eight months pregnant but clawed her attacker with her finger nails, after being taken into a walled garden near the dam, until she got away.

SECRET

A Marine lieutenant and his bride who, for security reasons kept their marriage secret during the Cuban crisis, have been reunited at Camp Pendleton.

Lt. Charles N. Bikakis, 27, and Sherie Louise Braden, 26, were hastily married Oct. 23—the day after Bikakis was ordered to the Caribbean. They had planned a church wedding Nov. 11. Because Bikakis was an aide to Gen. William T. Fairborn, it was feared that announcing his whereabouts would reveal the general's whereabouts. Bikakis has returned, the marriage has been announced now, and the couple is living in Oceanside.

Lord Avon, who used to be Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, Sunday became one of the first British public figures to have a kind word for former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson since the latter's "Britain-is-played-out" speech.

HURT

Lt. Col. Georgia Mosolov, Soviet test pilot and world high-altitude record holder, was seriously injured in a test flight crash last Sept. 11, the Army newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) reported Sunday at Moscow.

Mosolov, who last summer climbed to more than 113,000 feet in a rocket aircraft, was said to have catapulted from a burning jet fighter during a September test flight.

Diggers who worked throughout the night in hopes of rescuing Charles Spurgeon, 35, found him dead Sunday at Bethalto, Ill., after removing eight feet of dirt which trapped him in a well excavation late Saturday afternoon.

Surgeon of Highland, Ill., a well contractor, was at the bottom of a 30-foot shaft, filling buckets with dirt when a cave-in buried him.

Eye Opener

By BOB WELLS

Our Literate Populace

Mr. Bob Wells:

Sir, You make me so damned mad when you omit an essential and naturally expected followup to conclude a statement or ideas presented. Why should you keep secret the name of John Stuart Mill (1806-73) as "sweetfaced, cherubic little professor, etc. etc.?" Seems to me if his book was so important the author should be worthy of mention. Maybe someone might like to read it.

They might at that. However, the "sweetfaced, cherubic little professor," to whom I referred as the author of "The Wealth of Nations" was not John Stuart Mill. It was Adam Smith. I think you knew that. You just wanted to prove your point that I should have identified him by name.

Dear Sir:

... Envision Christmas Morn. Three kids yelling, dancing and screaming for Mom and Pop to get up.

... This gay group troops merrily to encircle the gift-laden tree. Lots of stuff from the folks to the kids. Lots of stuff from the kids to the folks. There has been nothing from Ma to Pa and vice versa. However, there are two envelopes left on the tree. These are gravely exchanged. Mom pulls out a card and reads:

"Dear Mrs. Shurb: Thank you so much for your generous contribution. It will go far to etc. etc. Hospital."

Dad opens his envelope, pulls out a card and reads:

"Dear Mr. Shurb: We can never begin to express our appreciation for your gift. You must realize etc. etc. Fund."

Naturally, no amounts are mentioned. Does one leave the price tag on the mink? Or the badly needed toaster?

All donations to be made by cash, money order or cashier's check. This negates the possibility of Mom finding out how much you paid for the mink she didn't get.

You think that would keep Mom from finding out? You kidding? And when she found out—wow!

Dear Bob Wells:

I'm an extremist because I am for Constitutional Gov't, so you referred to me in your column last nite. About the Brown joke. You were so right—nothing. You could use the same joke with the names Nixon and Brown reversed. That poor governor's seat had "nowhere" to go this election. Truly,

Nope, if you're for Constitutional government, you're not an extremist. For instance, I figure it would take Robert Welch at least five Constitutional amendments, and probably more, to put his radical right program into law. The radical left similarly would have to radically change the Constitution. Incidentally, both Nixon and Brown were and are for Constitutional government.

Mariner Beyond Venus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner 2, which Friday gave scientists their closest electronic look at Venus, moved about 650,000 miles from that planet Sunday and continued sending data to earth from a distance of 37.8 million miles.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the satellite's instruments were working perfectly and were continuing to make excellent transmissions to stations at Goldstone, Calif., Woomera, Australia, and Johannesburg, South Africa.

The three stations have tracked the 447-pound spacecraft continuously since it was launched Aug. 27. However, the stations will reduce their activities to 13 hours per day now that Mariner 2 has passed Venus and has started into an endless, 400-day orbit of the sun.

THE DATA Mariner is sending now deal with cosmic dust, charged particles, solar plasma and magnetic fields.

Mariner 2 will circle the sun at distances ranging from 65.5 million to 113.8 million miles.

The satellite scanned Venus from a distance of about 22,000 miles for 42 minutes Friday and sent back data which scientists said probably would reveal hitherto unknown facts such as the planet's composition and surface temperature.

California foothill areas beginning after midnight.

ALTHOUGH gusty winds up to 20 miles hourly whipped the blaze at racehorse speed earlier in the day, they died down at nightfall.

And a sudden shift in the wind direction around 4:30 pushed the fire's course away from a populated area.

Three homes were threatened for a time in the vicinity of Canon Boulevard and Devonwood Road, near the point where the blaze erupted around 1:15 p.m.

Then the flames threatened to race northwesterly toward a scattering of hillside homes, most in the $30,000 class, around Sage Hill Road.

THE WIND shift, however, altered the fire's course, shoving it more to the north and taking the homes out of its path.

Up to two inches of rain itself was not expected.

Borate bombing, called off, was predicted for Southern to quell the conflagration.

KID HEISTED A TROLLEY, DID TRAVEL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A teen-ager swiped a trolley car and drove it five miles across Philadelphia Sunday, bell clanging and fare box closed.

Passengers who rode with the amateur trolley man told police that as they got on, he sang out:

"I'm not charging any fares tonight, so get aboard. But I'm not giving any transfers either."

Police said the trolley was taken from a car barn in West Philadelphia while the regular driver was taking a lunch break. It was found abandoned across town.

Cars Bump; Man Beaten and Robbed

Two men beat and robbed Floyd D. Sanson, 52, Sunday after a minor bumping of two cars in a parking lot at 140 Long Beach Blvd.

Sanson told police when he attempted to survey the damage he was knocked down by one of the bandits, who took $10 from his wallet and then returned the wallet.

43 Investigators Probing Cause of Crash Killing 8

NORTH HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Forty-three government and other investigators sought Sunday the cause of Friday night's crash of a Flying Tiger Line cargo plane into homes and industrial structures of this Los Angeles suburb.

The coroner's office, meanwhile, definitely set the number of dead at eight. Coroner's deputies, police and firemen had said Saturday there were nine. But Coroner Theodore Curphey said Sunday a careful study of the mangled, burned remains showed eight bodies.

The four-propeller plane, arriving in fog on a regular daily flight from Boston to Chicago, battered or burned later.

The plane had been cleared for a landing and had not reported any trouble when it came down short of the runway.

The coroner's office said five persons in the plane and three on the ground died.

The investigators were studying eyewitness accounts, weather conditions and the mechanical history of the co-pilot, David L. Crapo, 25, factory.

They included 13 Civil Aeronautics Board investigators from Los Angeles, Washington and Denver offices. There also were representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency, the Flying Tiger Line, Inc., the Pilots' and Engineers' Associations and Lockheed Aircraft Corp., builder of the plane.

Ed Slattery Jr., CAB's information officer who flew here Saturday from Washington, said public hearings usually are held after such crashes. If one is conducted in this case, he said, it probably will be in January with a report on the cause of the crash likely about two months later.

The plane had been cleared for a landing and had not reported any trouble when it came down short of the runway.

The coroner's office said five persons in the plane and three on the ground died.

The investigators were studying eyewitness accounts, weather conditions and the mechanical history of the co-pilot, David L. Crapo, 25, factory.

John A. Olson, 48, of near-Sunland, a passenger who was flying home after attending his stepfather's funeral in Grand Forks, N.D. Olson was advertising director for Deal Publications, publishers of several West Coast community newspapers. His wife Janet works in the accounting department of the Airline's nearby Burbank office.

Mrs. Violet Blazek, 57, of Chicago, also a passenger. She was the stepmother of a Flying Tiger employee living in Northridge, near here.

Catherine Roche, 16, who was in the bathroom of her family's home, combing her hair in preparation for a date, when the plane hit.

Jesus Chavez Jr., 20, Reseda, employee of a factory struck by a section of the plane.

Still tentative, coroner's aides said, was the identification of the eighth victim as Mrs. Doris Malouin, 35, Eagle Rock, also an employee of the factory.

ferred when he stepped on a sharp rock.

Two Santa Barbara youths riding surf boards off Rincon Point at the Santa Barbara-Ventura County line barely escaped drowning when they were caught in giant swells.

Motorists on U.S. Highway 101 notified the Highway Patrol and Coast Guard, but the pair, Donald Knutson, 19, and Paul MacLusac, 18, succeeded in reaching the beach before help arrived.

They were taken to the Carpinteria Fire Station suffering from exposure. Firemen wrapped them in blankets and gave them hot drinks.

Rain fell from Santa Barbara northward and there was some drizzle at Redondo and Hermosa Beaches and other local areas.

The forecast for today calls for rain this morning becoming partly cloudy with showers in the afternoon.

One Billion Yule Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office has printed one billion Christmas stamps, and that's all for this year, an official said Sunday.

"We could go another 250 million if it were physically possible to get them distributed before Christmas," James F. Kelleher, special assistant to the postmaster general, told a reporter.

Printing of the special 4-cent stamps with the green wreath and red flame tipped candles stopped Saturday. Presses had been running seven days a week, 24 hours a day lately to fill the record-breaking demand.

The Post Office Department had a 350 million figure in mind when it started out on the nation's first special Christmas stamp, which went on sale Nov. 1.

Argentina Closes Jewish Institutions

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The federation of Jewish Cultural Societies in Argentina reported Sunday 11 Jewish institutions were closed last week by police.

A police spokesman said the action was taken on government orders because of suspicion "that communist activities" were carried on in the institutions.

the flames at least until the because of darkness, was to expected rainfall starts.

"Unless we can stop that breakout," said a fire official, "it will head into some really steep, rough and rugged country."

The southern front of the fire, the one closest to an inhabited area, was reported in "fairly good shape." Firemen said there was little chance the blaze would burn toward homes.

IN ADDITION to the 500 men now on the lines, 100 U.S. Forest Service fire-fighters brought from three other national forests in Southern California were to be thrown into the battle at 4 a.m. today.

Borate bombing, called off, was predicted for Southern to quell the conflagration.

California foothill areas beginning after midnight.

ALTHOUGH gusty winds up to 20 miles hourly whipped the blaze at racehorse speed earlier in the day, they died down at nightfall.

And a sudden shift in the wind direction around 4:30 pushed the fire's course away from a populated area.

Three homes were threatened for a time in the vicinity of Canon Boulevard and Devonwood Road, near the point where the blaze erupted around 1:15 p.m.

Then the flames threatened to race northwesterly toward a scattering of hillside homes, most in the $30,000 class, around Sage Hill Road.

THE WIND shift, however, altered the fire's course, shoving it more to the north and taking the homes out of its path.

Up to two inches of rain itself was not expected.

Borate bombing, called off, was predicted for Southern to quell the conflagration.

Turk Says Cubans Angry at Castro

NEW YORK (AP)—A Turkish newspaperman, who was in the Communist, says Sipahi-Havana during the Soviet-Cuban missile crisis says mid October to early December he believes the whole island is seething with sullen anger against Fidel Castro and the Communist Party.

"I am sure that at least 90 per cent of the Cuban people—probably more—are against the Communists and against Castro, too," Goksin Sipahi-oglu, a free-lance reporter from Istanbul, said in an interview.

Even the lowly campesinos—peasants—who have been an important source of support for the revolution, are

Peace Hope Improved, Rusk Says

DUBLIN (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday there was "no magical formula for international accord but expressed hope the Cuban crisis had strengthened prospects for global peace.

Rusk spoke to newsmen shortly before returning to Washington after a six-hour visit here which included a formal lunch with Irish Premier Sean F. Lemass and an audience with President Eamon de Valera.

Rusk who has just completed a round of talks with North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers in Paris, said the U.S. was most concerned about seeing her allies live up to the agreement of maintaining NATO forces at full strength.

"IT'S JUST a question of doing what we all agreed we should do in the first place," he said.

"When great powers and lesser powers have lived through a moment of crisis such as the Cuban affair, I believe there is a tendency toward caution," Rusk said. "At least that is what we hope for. But there is no magical formula for world peace."

GOLDWATER SMELLS DEAL OVER CUBA

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he suspects President Kennedy made a secret "deal" with Premier Khrushchev on the Cuban situation.

The Arizona Republican said here that Kennedy has side-stepped the subject during his last two news conferences.

"It's obvious he's ducking," Goldwater said.

"I don't like this constant evasion of a simple question—Did you, or did you not, say to Khrushchev we will not invade Cuba?"

"He ducks by saying he'll give the answer to the U.N. Security Council when all the 'ifs' are complied with. What are the 'ifs'?"

Goldwater added he is not convinced that the Russians removed 42 missiles from Cuba last month and said he suspects caves on the islands are being used to hide offensive military weapons.

Cuba Prisoner Swap Deal Rumors Boiling

Efforts to ransom the 1,113 surviving prisoners of the Pigs Bay invasion appeared to be entering their final phase Sunday.

Cuban exiles would not rule out the possibility that the Fidel Castro regime might be getting up false hopes for the prisoners' early release, but these developments pointed to a nearing climax in the months-long negotiations.

—New York attorney James B. Donovan, counsel for the Cuban Families Committee for the liberation of prisoners of war, was reported to have sought permission to return to Havana. Donovan is the major figure in the efforts to raise $62 million worth of medicine, food and other supplies which Castro has demanded as "fines" for the prisoners.

—A spokesman for the American Red Cross said the Farrell Lines freighter, S.S. African Pilot, was standing by in Baltimore harbor to carry supplies to Cuba for the barter "when and if needed."

The drydock supervisor of the Key Highway Yard where the ship was berthed said she has steam up, but has not requested a sailing date.

—In Havana, a usually reliable informant said the deal was near completion, lacking only the settling of details such as which prisoners will be released first—and how the exchange would be coordinated. The Castro government has placed "fines" on the prisoners ranging from $25,000 to $500,000.

Downtown Street Is River of Fire as Gas Truck Hit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Two alert city policemen saved more than 50 sleeping Sacramento residents Sunday when a speeding car rammed a gasoline tanker truck and turned a downtown street into a river of fire.

The car's driver was trapped and burned to death. Police identified her as Miss Frances Fontana, 41, of Sacramento. The truck driver, James Moore, 32, of Sacramento, was burned seriously.

Wiped out was nearly half a city block—five homes and apartment buildings. Seven parked cars also were destroyed.

Policeman Tom Stark and his partner, Paul Heitala, were in the vicinity and saw the flash of the explosion. When they reached the scene, the 8,750 gallons of gasoline in the tanker was gushing from the tanks. The flammable liquid was running down both streets, igniting everything it touched.

Stark said he and Heitala ran from building to building "kicking in doors" and breaking windows to wake residents.

Yule Gourmands
WELSHPOOL, Wales (UPI)—Five hundred children consumed 3,000 sandwiches, 2,000 cakes and 30 gallons of orange juice in 30 minutes at a Christmas party here Sunday.

Tax Slash Urged by Plumley

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ladd Plumley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said Sunday that tax cuts recommended by his organization would result in a deficit of less than $4 billion.

Plumley said (further that "within the shortest period of time" the budget could be balanced through "restraint on federal spending" and the natural growth of the economy.

He renewed the chamber's call for an $8.6 billion tax cut during a television interview.

PRESIDENT Kennedy last Friday proposed an across-the-board reduction in corporate and personal income taxes early in 1963. He outlined the basic framework of his tax plan but left the details and the specific rate changes to Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon when he goes before the House Ways & Means Committee early next year.

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the committee, has indicated that he is against an immediate tax cut. Mills said the state of the nation's economy was such that an immediate cut was not warranted.

Plumley agreed with the view held by the President—

Brown Names Levitt to College Council

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Brown Sunday named his first finance director, Bert W. Levitt, 59, to the Coordinating Council of Higher Education.

The council, composed of representatives of the University of California, the state colleges, public junior colleges, private institutions and the public, plans for the development of higher education in California.

Ford Gives $6,500,000 USC Grant

LOS ANGELES—The Ford Foundation Sunday made a $6,500,000 conditional grant to the University of Southern California to support the overall academic development of the West's oldest and largest independent co-educational university.

Dr. Norman Topping, USC President, was informed by the Ford Foundation's board of trustees that USC must raise $19,500,000 in matching funds—three dollars for each grant dollar—over a three-year period to be eligible for the grant. The matching funds must come from other private, philanthropic sources. Federal funds will not count as matching money.

The $6.5-million grant is the largest ever received by USC in its 82-year history and the largest ever made by the Ford Foundation to support education in the Southland. The Ford grant is the third largest made by the foundation to a university.

USC will receive an immediate payment of $1,000,000 to recruit new faculty, raise faculty salaries, and start construction of a new physical sciences building.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi made a clandestine deal with U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to assure the enrollment in the University of Mississippi of Negro James H. Meredith, Look Magazine said Sunday.

Barnett, an avowed segregationist, conferred with Kennedy for four days preceding the Sept. 30 rioting on the "Ole Miss" campus, the magazine said, and proposed a series of plans to allow Mer-

The magazine said Barnett's negotiations with the attorney general were unknown to Mississippi segregationists who had been told by the 64-year-old governor he would defy federal integration orders.

THE STORY said Barnett wanted to be "overwhelmed by the federals while crying 'never' for the segregationists' benefit."

The report said Barnett told President Kennedy by telephone on Sept. 29 that the state highway patrol would maintain law and order on the campus at Oxford.

Look reported: "Kennedy then shifted to a new tack. Unless the governor cooperated, he said, and helped maintain law and order while Meredith went on campus, the President would go on television and tell the country that Barnett had broken his word. To prove it, the President would tell all about the behind-the-scenes dickering.

"THIS HAD a devastating effect. The governor's resistance seemed to melt away. Again and again, Barnes asked that the President say nothing on TV that would unveil the nature of the secret phone calls."

Two persons died in the rioting which followed Meredith's admission to "Ole Miss." Federal troops have been guarding the 29-year-old Negro around the clock since that time.

The magazine said Thom Watkins, a 52-year-old corporation lawyer, helped avert "massacre" at the state university.

LOOK SAID Watkins successfully pleaded with Barnes for restraint while other advisers were encouraging the governor to resist federal forces when the rioting began.

The report said a group of segregationist leaders had planned to form a human wall on the campus "that would not yield until knocked down and trod upon by federalists . . . some resolved to stand until shot down."

Dr. M. Ney Williams, director of the (white) Citizens Council in Mississippi and a Barnett aide, was quoted as saying:

"In retrospect, I'm thankful that 5,000 to 10,000—maybe 15,000 to 20,000—fellow Mississippians didn't go there (Oxford) and get killed."

Believe All Lost in Brazil Plane Crash

MANAUS (UPI)—Panair do Brasil officials said Sunday they have given up all hope for survivors of the Conquest 1 which crashed into an Amazon jungle Friday with 50 persons aboard.

A rescue party slashed through the snake-infested jungle toward the plane, but had not reached it late Sunday, and an air force official said the overland trek may have to be abandoned. The wreckage reached by helicopters.

Panair said in a statement the plane was "destroyed with no signs or possibility of survivors."

WASHINGTON — Communist China's design for domination of Asia sooner or later will lead her troops back into action along the Himalayan front, informed American officials believe.

For this reason, U.S. officials have assigned a very high priority to quick repairs on the shattered Indian army. They are convinced the Chinese Communists will be satisfied with nothing less than substantial humiliations of India, a goal that could be achieved without a full-scale invasion.

The Chinese mystified nearly everyone 25 days ago when they withdrew their troops to a cease-fire line after dealing Indian forces heavy blows. Some of the puzzlement has been dispelled within the past week as overseas missions report more fully to officials here.

THE PRESENT picture is something like the following. Faced with economic difficulties at home and hot controversy with Soviet Russia inside the world Communist bloc, Chinese leaders were on the lookout for some means of asserting their strength. An invasion of India served both this end and the Chinese strategy of asserting dominance in the East.

India, of course, represented a choice target to the Chinese. It was a bourgeois semi-socialistic state that defined all the basic tenets of Marxist-Leninist dogma. Teaching a lesson to India and establishing Chinese paramountcy in Asia were tempting trophies to be gained by bringing India to her knees.

UNTIL humiliation can be achieved, the Chinese will not stop, in the view of informed American officials here. They have little doubt the Chinese can succeed, unless heroic steps are taken to bolster the Indian army.

The Chinese have excellent lateral communications along the Himalayas in the northeast and northwest. Their army is well-trained and beautifully equipped. Continued Indian refusal to negotiate probably will result in repeated jabs and probes at outposts all along this line.

The reports being received here on the state of Indian military machine are discouraging. In the initial Chinese assaults of October, the Indians lost more than a division in the northeast and more than a brigade in Lushan.

ALMOST equally severe psychological casualties were experienced by the Indians. Overnight, they learned that they had an army without modern arms, modern organization and modern tactics. The effect was shattering on the army and on Indian public opinion.

The joint American-British effort to restore the Indian army to its once proud stature will take three forms. In the initial stages it will involve a major effort to replace the early losses and to provide at the very least modern hand-weapons for Indian forces, most of whom came from World War I shooting parties.

IN THE NEXT stage, there will be a massive reshuffling of Indian military thinking inasmuch as the high command has adopted virtual notice of the new technology since World War II. This will be accompanied by further modernization in transport and heavy armor.

The final stage will involve a long-term and very painful reorganization of the Indian economy to provide the necessary industrial support for modern fighting machines to acquire. There is no doubt, however, that the Indian economy can provide the necessary productive capacity. But the cost of the Indian standard of living will be tremendous and will require a big increase in U.S. economic assistance.

Hollywood Mourns Top Actor Laughton

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The film capital mourned today an English hotelman's son, Charles Laughton, who became the movies' top character actor. Laughton died Saturday night of cancer at 61.

The sadistic Captain Bligh of "Mutiny on the Bounty," the Oscar-winning King Henry VIII and the admirable butler of "Ruggles of Red Gap" succumbed at 10:30 p.m. at his home.

The plump, admittedly homely screen veteran had been in a coma for some time. Beside his bed at the end were his wife, actress Elsa Lancaster, and his brother, Frank, a retired hotelman from England.

LAUGHTON went home, surgery for a collapsed vertebra from Hollywood's Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Nov. 30, pronounced he had cancer of the spine. He wanted to go home.

He entered the hospital last July 30 after prior treatment at New York's Memorial Hospital for cancer and allied diseases. At Cedars he had ment of his malignancy. "The thing is, he's so cheerful."

SHE WAS a daily visitor to the hospital. Laughton's brother said she was "taking the death quite hard."

He said funeral arrangements probably will be announced today.

Never a leading-man but for 30 years a star of films, the rotund Laughton was unforgettable in a long series of varied roles.

With haughty pose, majestic gestures, ironic expression and voice ranging from a whisper to a bellow, he portrayed divergent types with impressive skill.

AMONG other memorable Laughton roles were Roman emperor Nero, the artist Rembrandt and Quasimodo, the title character in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame."

He won an Academy Award in 1933 in "The Private Life of Henry VIII." Despite his English background he was praised for a convincing portrait of a Southern U.S. senator in his final film, "Advise and Consent."

He said more than once: "I have a face that would stop a sun dial and frighten small children." He was notorious for his careless about his dress. Despite obesity, he ate what he pleased. He lived modestly and avoided publicity.

In recent years Laughton's activities had included stage performances, especially dramatic readings from the world's great literature.

The actor's death came at the time of year when he often had read Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" on nationwide television.

LAUGHTON was born July 1, 1893, in the Victoria Hotel, Scarborough, England. The small hotel was owned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laughton.

He attended Stonyhurst College. At 16, preparatory to taking over the family hotel business, he went for training to Claridge's, the famous London hostelry. His earnings were spent on theater tickets.

When Laughton reached military age near the end of the first World War, he went directly to the front lines and was gassed. Back home, he plunged seriously into a theatrical career. At 25 he entered the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art and a year later won its highest award, the Bancroft gold medal.

PROFESSIONAL roles followed. His first major part was in Molnar's "Lilium." Offers poured in. In "On the Spot," he played an American gangster. Then in "Payment Deferred," after a successful English run, he came to New York. Its Broadway success led to Laughton's Hollywood career.

Among the actor's many films were "Witness for the Prosecution," "If I Had a Million," "The Sign of the Cross," "The Castaways," "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," "Les Miserables" and "Rembrandt."

Others included "Young Bess," "Salome," "Hobson's Choice," "Spartacus" and "Under Two Flags."

Star's Final Film Shows at Birthplace

LONDON (AP) — Charles Laughton's last movie, "Advise and Consent," was showing in his English birthplace when the screen's famous character actor died in Hollywood.

"Charles was magnificent, although to me he was obviously a sick man," said his brother, Tom, who saw the picture last week.

Charles Laughton, son of a hotelkeeper, was born in Scarborough, Yorkshire.

TODAY, the British stage added its tributes to those of Laughton's Hollywood colleagues.

"Charles Laughton had, even in his early stage successes, all of which I saw as a boy, that quality of over-lifesize which is one of the hallmarks of great acting," said Sir Michael Redgrave.

"He was above realism," said the eminent Shakespearean actor. "His acting had richness, warmth, and also a subtle poison. He was a splendid Borgia of an actor." Said Dame Sybil Thorne-dike: "The theater has suffered a great loss by his death."

Macmillan, De Gaulle End Talks

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan pledged Sunday to continue negotiations for Britain's entry into the European Common Market despite their differences.

A communique issued after their weekend conference at the Chateau de Rambouillet near Paris said the two leaders "found themselves in close agreement about the conclusions to be drawn as regards western policy and western defense." They gave no details.

De Gaulle and Macmillan said their meeting had given them the chance to consider the international situation "in the aftermath of the Cuban crisis and in the light of serious events in Asia," an apparent reference to the Indian-Red Chinese border conflict.

Macmillan returned to London to prepare for his journey to the DE GAULLE Bahamas where he will meet with President Kennedy Wednesday.

Claim Plot Broken

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Saudi Arabia's Mecca radio claimed Sunday night that 42 Egyptian officers have been arrested following an abortive attempt to overthrow President Nasser's United Arab Republic regime.

Mecca Radio, which is controlled by the anti-Nasser Saudi government, quoted "highly-informed sources" as saying that 30 of the alleged plotters belonged to the U.A.R. army, and the others to its air force.

Nehru Visits Front

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru flew over the Himalayas Sunday in a U. S. Air Force transport plane for a quick visit to Indian troops facing the Red Chinese on the Ladakh front.

As the prime minister conferred at army headquarters on the northwestern front, a squadron of U. S. planes ferried troops and military supplies toward the frontier area.

Women in Army

MOSCOW (AP) — Women volunteers are serving two-year terms in the Soviet armed forces, the military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) reported Sunday.

Insurgents of Borneo Encircled

MIRI, Sarawak (AP) — British troops and loyal jungle tribesmen tightened a ring around the main rebel force southeast of Miri Sunday, killing 6 insurgents and capturing more than 100.

Official sources said there were no casualties among the British or among the loyal Kenyan and Kadayan tribesmen, who have a long history as headhunters.

Tom Harrison, head of a tribal irregular force, said his units were being moved out for new operations against other fleeing members of the Northern Borneo National Army.

HARRISON, who is curator of Kuching Museum, worked behind Japanese lines in North Borneo during World War II, leading a similar irregular army.

Borneo tribesmen reportedly took many heads of Japanese soldiers they killed as well as those of some civilians before being brought back under control. Harrison said no heads were taken in this present operation.

Military sources in Labuan, North Borneo, said four long-range helicopters, three others with a shorter range and six single-engine Pioneers are being brought in for the second phase of the mop-up operation.

Red 'Spy' Hunter's Warm Up for U.S.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Newspaper Pravda hinted Sunday that more U. S. diplomats may be caught in the most sensational anti-espionage campaign since U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was tried in 1960.

Two U.S. citizens have left the Soviet Union recently following spying charges. Three others currently working at the embassy have been named, and Pravda said, "This list could be added to."

The fresh charge came in an attack against Soviet citizen Oleg V. Penkovsky, 41, Pravda said Penkovsky had fallen into such Western pastimes as dancing the "Charleston" and the "Twist" while he studied the secret codes used to transmit political, military and economic secrets to the West.

PRAVDA SAID Penkovsky, who "at home... hid from his own parents and was afraid of giving himself away by an involuntary word in his sleep" had been turned over to authorities by loyal fellow-workers.

At the appointed time he listened on his portable receiver to transmissions in code from Frankfurt-am-Main (in Western Germany)," it said. "The spy studied not only Morse code but also the most fashionable Western dances."

"He dreamed of the time when he would be in the New York or London nightclubs for good... but the ordinary pastimes as dancing the 'Charleston' and the 'Twist' alongside Penkovsky helped the Security Police to expose and catch the brazen traitor redhanded."

PRAVDA described the Americans allegedly involved with Penkovsky as "cloak-and-dagger knights" who learned their techniques from cheap detective stories. Those accused by Pravda who are still working here were embassy attaché and security officer Hugh Montgomery, 39, of Springfield, Mass.; embassy doctor and assistant air attaché Capt. Alexans H. Davison, 31, of Atlanta, Ga.; and embassy second secretary Robert K. German, 35, of Dallas, Tex.

THE TWO who already thousands of Tokyoites, with have left the Soviet Union pockets well lined with bonus money, indulged Sunday in what may have been the biggest single day Christmas buying spree on record. The capital's many department stores were crammed with shoppers, where bank employees helped count the fast piling mountains of money. Mitsukoshi, one of Tokyo's biggest stores, said sales went at a speed of "12,000 yen ($33) per second."

The bonus is a feature peculiar to the Japanese wage system. It is paid to employees today no orders had been both in government and private enterprises, twice annually. Many firms paid two the months' salary as bonus.

The embassy said as of received from the Soviet Foreign Ministry demanding the expulsion of the three named Saturday.

CONGRESS MAY GET INTO ACT

Row Brews on Skybolt Fate

By BILL SUMNER

U.S. Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The tentative cancellation last week of the Skybolt missile program promises to stir up a controversy that will make the fuss over the B-70 pale by comparison.

The Defense Department once again is taking on the Air Force, its ardent spokesman in the Senate and House and an immense industrial complex. But this dispute has gone international, to the despair of Britain which had elected to place all of its nuclear chips on the bomber-borne missile.

As a plain domestic issue the cancellation would have been touchy enough. It indicates another decision pointing toward all-out commitment to ground-based missile forces and forced obsolescence of piloted aircraft.

IT DIRECTLY affects the livelihood of some 20,000 employees of Douglas Aircraft, the prime contractor, Northrup Aviation, and the many other subcontractors scattered in all 50 states.

Final decision on the mis-sile's fate has now reached the diplomatic level and possibly will be resolved this Wednesday and Thursday in a conference in the Bahamas between President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Skybolt is a solid-propellant, two-stage missile which was to be carried under the wings of the B-52 and the British Vulcan bombers. It is being developed for launching from any altitude at ground targets up to 1,000 miles distant.

DOUGLAS Aircraft was selected to develop Skybolt in May, 1959. Major subcontractors include Aerojet General (propulsion system), General Electric (re-entry vehicle) and Northrup Division of Northrup (guidance). Funding for the program totals $492 million through fiscal 1963 and at the present time about $350 million has been expended or committed.

The Air Force saw it not only a major tactical weapon, but as a means of saving the B-52. Britain, of course, has complexities involved in perfecting any of these weapons.

About two years ago, Britain abandoned development on its own intermediate range missile, the Blue Streak, after spending about $1.7 billion on it. Its military planners were assured that the Skybolt was proceeding on schedule and that it would be available to their fleet of about 200 jet bombers by 1965.

BRITAIN regards this fleet as a nuclear deterrent which is fast approaching obsolescence with anti-aircraft missile development in Russia.

The British wanted independent control of their own nuclear capability. Although several U.S. missile bases are located in the United Kingdom, they are under dual-key control which requires our assent to any strike.

The Defense Department pointed on one hand to five straight Skybolt firing failures and came to the decision that it was not needed by our forces anyway.

BOTH REASONS are disputed. Douglas's spokesmen point to the many failures of presently operating systems—such as Thor, Atlas and Minuteman—as indicative of the complexities involved in perfecting any of these weapons. "Basically," one of them said, "McNamara has to try to cut a lot of money out of the budget. We insist there is no more of a problem in this than in any similar system."

A Northrup representative here said the guidance system definitely wasn't involved in the failures.

Meanwhile, we have left the British government on a slender limb from which it regards our offer to turn over the entire program to them with little show of elation. The program probably is $1 or $2 billion away from perfection. While these never are staggering sums to Washington they are enough to give the present British government a dizzy spell from which it may not recover.

LONDON (UPI)—Former prime minister Anthony Eden said today the United States should give higher priority to developing the Skybolt missile than to landing men on the moon. He said any U.S. decision to scrap the project would affect not only Britain but the entire free world.

Beach Combing

With Malcolm Epley

BELIEVING it may be a little hard to come by, but it's true. Somebody has been gleaming from the municipally sponsored Christmas Lane display on Daisy Ave. in Long Beach.

Harry Burgess, foreman of the city paint shop who has charge of preparing this block-long exemplification of the Christmas story and of Yuletide decor, figures that thieves have taken items worth at least $600 so far this season.

Thieves have taken lights, cut-outs, and many other things. Some men in a truck attempted to pull down a string of lights. Last year, some one even stole the Nativity scene doll.

Burgess says that adults have been busy on the thievery job. A couple of black lights, worth $120 each, were stolen by experts who knew how to disconnect them.

The city is attempting to guard the display but a guard can't be everywhere. Residents of Daisy Ave., it has been suggested, could help by keeping an eye out for thieves and notifying the authorities.

EVERY Christmas season, this dept. gets complaints from people whose private Yule displays have been raided.

They don't know exactly what I should say about it, but somehow feel it would help to mention it.

I doubt if Christmas thieves read this column, but here is the mention. It seems rather useless to say that it is wrong. There's no hope for people who don't know that already.

SMALL item I had here last week has drawn a number of inquiries as to what it was all about. "Please," explain," say Ed

Saylor, K. P. Chisholm and many others. Maybe if I re-tell the story it will help those whose Christmas is going to be spoiled if this thing isn't made clear.

A menu board at a restaurant, inexplicably had these words at the top: SEX IS.

A customer saw this, was puzzled, but chuckled when he decided the board was right: Sex is—it does exist.

An attendant behind the counter saw the man looking at the board in amusement. He too, looked at it. Evidently the "Sex is" thing didn't faze him. Instead, he noticed that the initial S had been left off the word salad at the bottom of the board, and put it on.

Some readers have tried to connect "Sex" and "salad" in the story. There's no connection, except that it was funny the restaurant attendant assumed that the missing "s" on salad would be more likely to amuse and puzzle an onlooker than that ridiculous "sex is" at the top.

Get it? If not, I give up. The explanation already is twice as long as the original story.

THERE'S an exclusive club that even the best-heeled, best-mannered top-drawer aristocrats can't get into unless they happen to have been born on Feb. 29, 1896.

It's the "Eight Years Without a Birthday Club" and it was founded by Virgil Milton Stone, 2765 Brooklyn Ave., Riverside.

People like Stone, who was born on that date, didn't have a birthday until 1904 because 1900 wasn't a leap year, even though divisible by four.

Stone so far has lined up less than a dozen members in the nation. If you qualify, write him.

MANY CUSTOMERS Fantasy Factory Has 14-Hour Day

By GEORGE ROBESON

The world of Jack Oehlert is filled with fantasy he creates in a 14-to 15-hour work day. And there are seven of those work days every week.

Oehlert makes animated displays for stores, manufacturing firms and service companies. His products include larger-than-life Santas, fairy-tale characters, animals and trees. They are born in his brain and wind up in display windows all over the nation.

The anonymity of his shop front at 1501 W. Gaylord St. is broken only by a small sign — "Oehlert Displays" — propped in the corner of a window. He doesn't advertise. He doesn't have to.

"I'M A YEAR behind on orders now," he said. "I'm the only person on the West Coast doing this kind of work."

"This kind of work" combines the talents of a mechanic, sculptor, welder, painter, electrician, animator and a Madison Avenue "idea man."

Example: In a "Sleeping Beauty" scene Oehlert leases to banks and department stores, Prince Charming and small forest animals bring gifts to the awakening Beauty while a nearby tree winks its eyes and waves its branches.

DOZENS of figures are needed for such scenes. Oehlert welds a metal framework together for each figure, then completes the sculpture with hardening, chemically-treated fabric called Celastic after the animation machinery and electrical gear has been installed. Then the figures are painted or dressed in costume.

Many of Oehlert's animated scenes are in use at Santa's Village at Skyforest near Lake Arrowhead. He recently completed a 28-foot-high pirate for the front of a costume shop on Pacific Avenue and plans several 30-foot Santa Claus for next year.

"I love this work," Oehlert said. "You never do the same thing twice."

Example: For an $80,000 space age display for children at an El Monte dairy, Oehlert created 500 five-foot-high space men — each one different.

Oehlert never takes a vacation. "This year," he said, "I took off one Saturday, one Sunday and about half a Friday."

"You can see where you'd have to love this kind of work."

Santa Ana Fire Loss at $30,000

A dawn fire swept through a Goodwill Industries building in Santa Ana Sunday, destroying building and contents, with damage estimated at $30,000.

Chief John Garthe directed a battle by two ladder companies, three engine companies and a salvage unit which saved two adjacent buildings.

The 50-year-old brick building with wooden truss roof housed a huge quantity of old mattresses, rags and paper bags, firemen said. The fire was knocked down within 45 minutes, but firefighters stayed on duty at the scene nearly four hours.

'BARBARETTES' GIRLS' DRILL TEAM GIVES SNAPPY 'EYES RIGHT' TO PARADE JUDGES

"Feliz Navidad" ... "Glad Jul" ... "Christmas Omedeto Gocaimasu" ... "Joyeux Noel" ... means Merry Christmas in four of the 28 countries represented in Sunday's Christmas pageant, the "Christmas in Many Lands" parade.

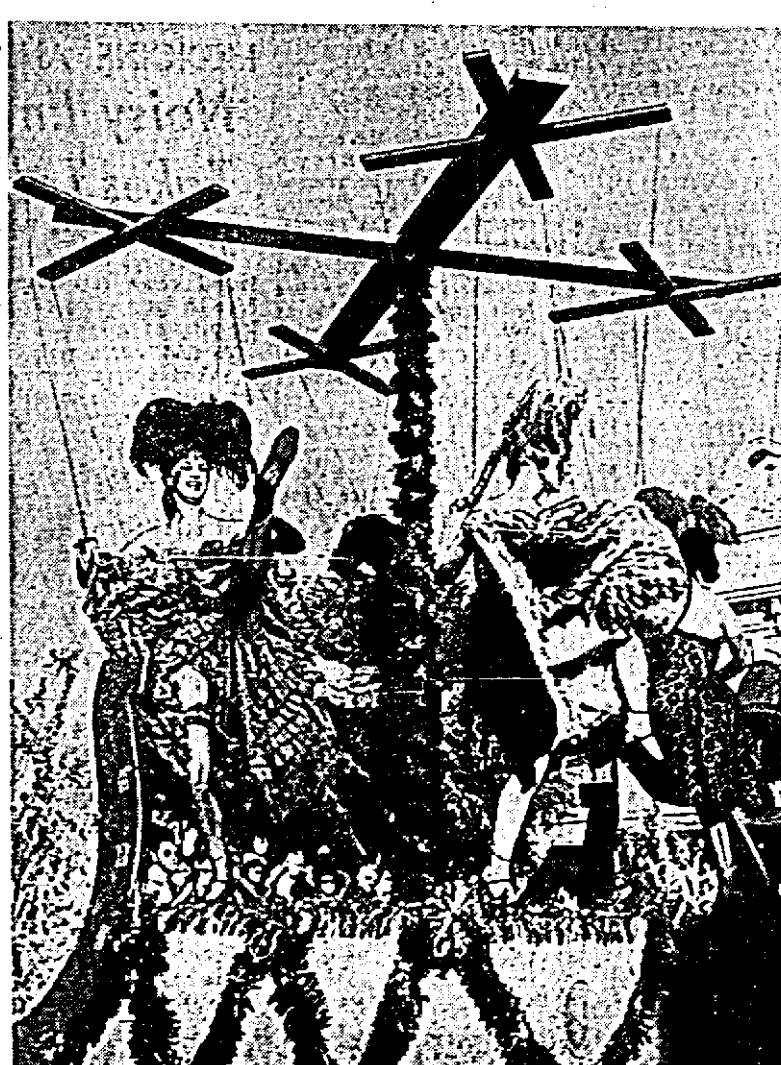

More than 30,000 persons crowded the park to see Disney's eighth annual holiday parade of 2,500 marchers and 23 floats representing the nations.

Disneyland opened the parade by freeing 500 pigeons and closed by releasing about 3,500 colored balloons. Between the two releases were more than two hours of spectacle, with pretty girls, marching bands, floats mounted with larger-than-life toys and dolls of foreign lands, pretty girls, elephants, camels, horses, pretty girls, and even a couple of ostriches.

It was a big day for the kids. They were delighted with huge Disney characters and toy soldiers in the Parade of Living Toys. And children in the marching national groups, whose job it was to toss candy to the crowd, managed to toss most of it to youngsters their own age.

KILLED BY BURGLAR Chico, Rookie Police Dog, Given Funeral of Hero

Chico, a rookie police dog who stood his ground against a burglar and died fighting, was given a hero's funeral Sunday at Sea Breeze Pet Cemetery, 19541 Beach Blvd., in Huntington Beach.

Chico had been trained in police-dog duties by the Canine Kops, a private guard company supplying guard dogs for industrial plants.

He was found Saturday beaten to death on the grounds of a roofing company in Artesia. Investigators said he had died defending the place from a burglar.

Ivan Machman, president of Canine Kops, arranged for the funeral and for the headstone on Chico's grave. The headstone reads: "Chico, Canine Kop. Killed on Duty."

1-Armed Bandit Robs Station

Police have a good clue in their search for one of the bandits who Sunday night took more than $80 from a service station at 801 East Ocean Blvd.

His left arm is missing. The two bandits, both armed with revolvers, threatened to shoot attendants William A. McWeeney, 25, and Marlin Lewis, if they did not provide a key to the floor safe. McWeeney convinced them he did not have the key and they fled after locking the attendants in a small room.

Traffic Kills Three, Injures Many Others

Pre-Christmas traffic continued to take a deadly toll in the Long Beach area over the weekend, with three lives lost and many persons injured in street and highway accidents. A late Sunday tally showed as dead in Long Beach and nearby traffic:

- ISABEL DAUGHERTY, 72, Long Beach.
- MARY MARSH, 28, Artesia.
- DAVID L. MARTIN, 22, Pasadena.

A 72-year-old woman pedestrian was injured fatally Sunday by an automobile that struck her as she crossed Pine Avenue at Anaheim Street.

Isabel Daugherty, of 1626 Pacific Ave., died in St. Mary's Hospital 15 minutes after she was knocked to the pavement at 2:55 p.m.

Police cited the driver, Roy F. Levy, 27, of 1780 Gaviota Ave., for failure to yield right-of-way to a pedestrian in a marked crosswalk. Levy, police reported, said he was turning left from Anaheim Street to Pine and didn't see the woman.

A head-on crash at 2:20 a.m. Sunday at Woodruff Avenue and Arbor Road, in Lakewood, caused fatal injuries to a young housewife, Mrs. Mary Marsh, of 11409 E. 212th St., Artesia.

Her husband, Everett Marsh, 28, who was driving, and two other passengers, Larry Snell, 27, and his wife, Dorinne, 28, of 11319 213th St., Artesia, suffered shock, cuts and bruises.

LAKEWOOD sheriff's deputies were told both Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Snell were five months pregnant. After first aid at St. Helen's Hospital, Artesia, with the other injured, Mrs. Snell was taken to Los Angeles General Hospital for further observation. Deputies arrested the driver of the second car involved, Russell Hindman, 22, of 909 Termino Ave., Long Beach, and booked him on suspicion of felony manslaughter. He was taken to the jail ward of the County Hospital.

At Redondo Beach, a pickup truck with bad brakes careened 432 feet down a highway Saturday night, crashed over a curb and into a pole, killing one of its six occupants and critically injuring another.

Police booked the truck's 17-year-old driver, Gerald Fredericksen, of 1913 Speyer Lane, Redondo Beach, on suspicion of manslaughter.

KILLED in the crash was David L. Martin, 22 of Pasadena. He was catapulted from the truck and then crushed under the rolling vehicle.

Mrs. Shirley A. Roberts, 16, of Redondo Beach, whose multiple injuries put her on the critical list Saturday night at South Bay Hospital, was reported by the hospital Sunday to be in "fair" condition. Her husband, James D. Roberts, 19, was treated for head injuries. Three others were treated for minor hurts and released.

In a non-fatal crash reported by the California Highway Patrol, a Torrance mother and her two sons, riding in a car without seat belts, suffered major injuries Sunday noon when the car she was driving collided with another on Western Avenue north of Palos Verdes Dr. Her sons, Jerry 7, suffered concussion and forehead lacerations, and John, 6, a skull fracture and head lacerations.

Mrs. Angelina Gray, 28, of Torrance, the driver, was taken to Bay Harbor Hospital for treatment of concussion, fracture and head lacerations.

Kidnap Suspect Nabbed

Arrest of a former Buena Park resident on charges of fleeing California to escape prosecution was announced at Detroit, Mich., Sunday by the FBI.

Bureau agents reported Frank Glasgow Whitfield Jr., 30, had tried to escape prosecution on crimes of extortion, grand theft and kidnapping. He will be arraigned today in Federal Court in Detroit.

The FBI said Whitfield had engaged in fake morals arrests with four other men, three of whom are in custody. Agents said the four posed as policemen and "arrested" men they had lured into compromising situations.

Victims of the "arrests" then would be induced to post sums ranging as high as $20,000 to escape prosecution and publicity. Fake police badges, handcuffs, fake warrants and fake extradition papers were found on the suspects, the FBI said.

Christmas Gift for Mother Is Her Figure

Vickie Mullins just recently had a baby and was frustrated about all kinds of figure problems that developed after her baby arrived. Vickie's new figure is a present from her mother.

as told by: Vickie Mullins,
410 East South St., Long Beach

My name is Vickie Mullins. Year's Eve, not the one I thought and I live at 410 East South St., I would wear which would hide Long Beach, Calif. I am writing my abdomen and hips, but a this because it's the Christmas sheath. I really feel that season and I am really one happy I'll have something to celebrate girl. A few weeks ago my mother, Mrs. Blanche Richette, read an ad that appeared in the Independent, Pat Walker's Stuffer System program. It told about Miss Walker (who is the national figure authority for the Stuffer System) and what wonderful things she has done for people who needed help in reducing.

My mother called and talked to Miss Butler, who is the manager, and Miss Butler told her that Miss Walker would be in the salon that afternoon and that she could talk to her personally. Miss Walker did. My mother told her about the fact that I had just recently had a baby (this is my baby, Debra Jean, and my mother that's in the picture that you see). She told her that I was beginning to have all kinds of figure problems and how frustrated I was over them because before I had the baby I had a pretty figure. So my mother took me to the salon and they measured me, and gave me a figure analysis along with a courtesy treatment, and they told me where I would lose, how long it would take and exactly what it would cost.

My mother gave me a new figure for a Christmas present. It's the best present any mother could give her daughter because it will be something I will have and cherish long after most presents are forgotten. I am losing beautifully; the people in the salon are so nice to me and I am even going to be able to wear a pretty dress on New Year's Eve, not the one I thought and I live at 410 East South St., I would wear which would hide Long Beach, Calif. THE NAVAL STATION. Commanding Officer Capt. Frank Silk, will host 700 children at Naval Station theater. Special Services needs volunteers to help in wrapping of gifts. They also have Santa suits to loan ships having parties (Bldg. 22).

Gay decorations and bright lights are now in evidence at the Naval Station where the most effective decorations is now taking place. Judging will take place Thursday. Even the tugboats are beautiful in festive illumination. It's a night scene worth driving down to see.

SO MANY NAVY families have reason for special celebrations since the week's schedule is crowded with ships' arrivals, always subject to change, of course. Jubilant ones include friends and relatives of the more than 4,000 men aboard the 12 ships of CRUDESFLOT 3 returning today.

The USS Topeka, flagship of Rear Adm. Walter J. Baumberger, will be leading with units of DesDiv 192, 112 and 132 following. The USS Hollister and Osborn of DesDiv 112 recently made headlines by rescuing a Japanese trawler and crew in a storm in the Pacific.

The big carrier USS Hornet is scheduled for later in the week, probably Thursday, as are the ships of DesDiv 192. Other arriving ships include those of Phil Ron 7, dispatched during the Cuban crisis to transport Marines from Camp Pendleton. The USS Okanagon and Caldillo were to arrive last Friday and the Carter Hall Saturday, with others to follow.

THE COAST GUARD Officers Wives Club will meet for its holiday social hour and luncheon Tuesday in Allen Center at 11:30 a.m. (Cmdr. R.H.). Mrs. Alex Young and Mrs. John Franek. The program includes exchange of gifts, a carol sing-along, and Christmas playlet under direction of Mrs. Frances Meyer (Lt. Cmdr. P.W.).

THE NAUTICAL CLUB will meet for its Christmas social hour and luncheon Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in Allen Center. They will bring canned goods for two Navy families they are helping. There will be a gift exchange and music by the "Spartaners." Eden Tardy is in charge of decorations and hostesses are Mrs. F.A. Salassa and Mrs. R.R. Proudfoot.

MEMBERS OF LADIES Fleet Reserve Association Unit 43, led by hospital chairman Myra Penny, are gaily decorating Christmas trees at Veterans' Hospital and assembling gifts for one of the wards. President Bea Morgan announces the scheduling of a party in January aboard the USS Haven and a tea at Veterans' Hospital.

A NUMBER OF OTHER Navy families are gladdened by the presence or near arrival of college vacationers. Among them are Perky Schelling, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. R.A. Schelling, COMDESRON 23, home from the U. of Oregon, Kathie Berthrong, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Berthrong, COMDESRON 19, now a senior at Colorado College, and son Fred Berthrong home from the Naval Academy.

Beth Akers, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. J.C. Akers, Staff, Logistics, COMCRUDESPAC, will be vacationing from Whittier College with the family but Dianne, who is at Smith, remained in the East visiting friends.

Carole Hall, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Warren Hall, CO, NavWeap Sta, who also attends Smith, will spend the holiday here.

NAVY DEPENDENTS who have not as yet received their allotment checks for November should call the Navy Finance Office (Long Beach or San Diego), giving the name as it usually appears on the check, and the serial number of the serviceman.

Call Older Americans World's Best Tourists

"Older Americans are the world's best tourists because they are friendly, appreciative, eager to learn and the most relaxed."

This is the opinion of Miss Luciana Cantoni of Milan, Italy, who is visiting this country for the first time as guest of the American Association of Retired Persons and the National Retired Teachers Association.

Nicknamed "Lucky," the attractive Miss Cantoni, 30, has been conducting European tours sponsored by the two organizations.

At a luncheon Wednesday at Pacific Coast Club, Mrs. Ruth O. Lana, NRTA-AARP official, presented the visitor with a charm bracelet, making her an honorary member of both associations.

MISS CANTONI said that she and the 30 other European university graduates employed by NRTA-AARP Travel Service constantly are amazed and delighted by the energy, enthusiasm and vitality of mature Americans on tours.

She recalled one woman from California, past 80, who always was the first to arise, out-walked everyone and loved to go off exploring by herself.

More than 50 former tour members and local officers were at the luncheon to welcome Miss Cantoni to Long Beach.

SHE TOLD the audience, "I felt I knew the United States even before I came here because of all the wonderful Americans I met on our European tours."

Mrs. Lana announced that Miss Cantoni will be director for the first round-the-world tour, a 63-day trip, to be conducted by AARP and NRTA. During 1963, more than 100 tours to all parts of the world will be offered. Information may be obtained at the Hospitality House, 353 E. Ocean Blvd.

Alumnae Plan Christmas Observances

Phi Mu alumnae will hold their annual Christmas party Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James L. Frame, 671 Terraine Ave.

Toys for children in the pediatric ward of Memorial Hospital will be brought in lieu of exchange gifts. This is the philanthropy of the group.

Honorees for the evening will be Lucille Brown Greene, who has been named to serve on the planning committee for the International Arts and Crafts Fair planned for 1963, and Barbara Frame, who has been named by Phi Mu as national state day chairman.

Mrs. Gordon Fisher, president, urges all Phi Mus in the area to attend.

SURPRISE AWARD

Mrs. Robert Squaires had no idea she'd won top P.T.A. recognition until she was awarded honorary life membership to California Congress of Parents and Teachers at recent meeting of Long Beach Council in Burroughs School. Here, she poses with her family following presentation. They are (left) Mr. Squaires, their daughter, Mrs. Coy Swanson; granddaughter, Katrina; and son, Mike. Another daughter, Nancy, was unable to attend. Mrs. Squaires is superintendent of Long Beach School Nurses.

LIFE HONOR

Lorenzo J. Rossi, assistant supervisor of physical education, Long Beach City Schools, took top P.T.A. honors at recent meeting of Long Beach Council at Burroughs School. Here, Mrs. Jerry Lomeli awards him with pin proclaiming him honorary life member of California P.T.A.

MEDICINE AND YOU

Noisy Environment Takes Toll in Hearing

By BEN ZINSER

What effect does a prolonged noisy environment have on the hearing of aging persons?

To find out, a team of five doctors went to one of the quietest spots on earth: a native village 650 miles southeast of Khartoum, Sudan—a few miles from the Ethiopian border.

This is isolated bush country inhabited by natives known as Mabaans. Their state of cultural development is Late Stone Age.

The doctors found it to be the original quiet village. The loudest noise you'll ever hear there is that of singing and dancing. In the mornings you'll hear occasional bird noises. On a routine day it's very quiet.

Doctors gave physical examinations and hearing tests to 541 Mabaans ranging from 10 to more than 90 years old.

Finding: Older natives demonstrated superior hearing in the high frequencies. In our culture you'd find high-toned hearing loss among the aging.

The researchers also discovered that Mabaan blood pressures remain essentially the same throughout life. In our culture, blood pressures rise with aging, even among apparently healthy persons.

Other advantages to being a Mabaan: No coronary heart disease, no ulcerative colitis, no duodenal ulcer, no bronchial asthma, little tooth decay.

The study is reported in Annals of Otology, Rhinology & Laryngology.

The Wild Waves Say

By KOLA MASTERSON

"SMASHING SUCCESS." That's the way the Christmas cocktail party for two command officers of this area and their wives was described. It was hosted by members of the Armed Services committee of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce at Virginia Country Club.

Hosts and hostesses doing the honors were Clint and Arty Furrer, Jane and Mac Epley, Fred Dean and Jeanette McLaughlin, Marge and Al Davis, Della and Les Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. George Richards.

Among the top brass (about 70 were present) were Major Gen. and Mrs. Frank Tharin, Rear Adm. Kenneth Veth, Rear Adm. and Mrs. J. B. Tibbitts, Rear Adm. and Mrs. Ned Sprow and Rear Adm. and Mrs. Jack Fee.

BEST GIFT for Marge and Roy McCullough the 25th won't be under the tree, but beside it, in the wonderful shape of son, Bill. It will be his first leave (except for one skippy 24-hour one) since he entered National Guard boot camp at San Luis Obispo. Bill is due home Thursday; will be here until Jan. 4 at which time he'll be off again for assignment (somewhere) and completion of his tour of duty.

WITH A very legitimate "whew," Melva Lane wound up the work of re-doing the house (brave, brave gal—she painted the interior herself, I am told)—then, quick as a wink, planned a delightful Christmas champagne luncheon. Bidden to the party were good friends Cleo Young, Bobbie Carlson, Pauline Dilday, Donna Faust, Evelyn Scott, Ruth Grove and Florence Hill.

Whip cream topping for the day was the fact that the hostess had music man Leslie Wood in to play organ music background for the luncheon hour.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dynal)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository (form known as Preparation H). Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Oswald Jacoby Important to Plan Play

The new California Bridge Digest has made its appearance and will probably be here to stay. In the October issue Edwin Kantar, one of our best players, writers and analysts, gives several interesting problems in play.

All of them illustrate the need to plan your play at trick one. These are to be used for this week's series.

South's first impulse is to play dummy's queen of clubs on West's jack. West might have led from king-jack-ten.

A little thought tells South that his correct play is to duck that jack of clubs in both hands. West has made a vulnerable overcall. Surely he holds both missing aces and South wants to make sure that East can't get the lead.

AFTER ducking, South has no more trouble. He wins the next club and draws trumps. Then he leads a diamond.

West takes his ace, but has no way to keep South from discarding one of dummy's spades on a high diamond and winding up with only one spade loser.

Had West held the king of clubs and East the ace of diamonds, South would have lost a hand that he could have made. But the chances were much greater to find the cards as they actually were.

St. Kevin's Guild will host a card party Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Our Lady of Refuge parish hall. Refreshments will be served and a holiday money tree will be given away.

LABELING
A TROUBLED PERSON'S BEHAVIOR IS:
HELPFUL □ HARMFUL □

By SYLVANUS AND EVELYN DUVALL

1. Labeling a troubled person's behavior as: Helpful—Harmful—Harmful, always. It doesn't help a disturbed person to call him "crazy" or "dependent" or "selfish" or

"sick." He may be acting in one or more of these ways, but it can be harmful to slap a label on his disturbance. Setting yourself up as a judge may only confirm his belief that everyone is against him. Even in seeking professional help, it is better to describe the problem without trying to be an amateur psychiatrist by using glib terms that may or may not fit the case.

DEAR ABBY

Her Last Lasts and Lasts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the past 24 years of our marriage we have spent Thanksgiving and Christmas with my husband's mother, who lives 40 miles away. She is now 80, and for the last 24 years we have felt it might be her last because she has not been feeling well. I used to make a big Thanksgiving dinner for the entire family. We had all my husband's brothers and sisters and their children, and it was fun. But for five years now, after all the plans were made, I'd get a call the day before that Mother didn't feel up to the confusion, and we ended up taking her to the hotel for dinner—minus the children. The children are growing up and I want the whole family together at my home at holiday time. What can I do? The holidays have been ruined for so many years. I am sick of hearing "it may be Mother's last."—HELP

DEAR HELP: Franklin Roosevelt changed the official date of Thanksgiving and so can you. Next year have your big Thanksgiving dinner at home, with all the children. The children are growing up and I want the whole family together at my home at holiday time. What can I do? The holidays have been ruined for so many years. I am sick of hearing "it may be Mother's last."—HELP

DEAR ABBY: Our son recently came home from Korea. His first week home he just sat around the house enjoying the luxury of being home. He also taught our parakeet to swear. It is very embarrassing to us, but our son seems to think it is a big joke. What should we do?—SGT.'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Our son married a girl who handles all the money and makes all the decisions. He has had a piano since the age of five and he loves to play. When he was married we gave him his piano. It was a fine piano and he got great enjoyment from it. Well, they moved into a new home and his wife sold the piano to strangers for $200. She claimed she didn't have room for it. (She had room for a seven-foot bar in her den, though.) Now they are making their basement into a recreation room, and she suddenly decided they needed a piano. She has been hinting right and left that we should buy them one. Would you if you were us?—THE OLD FOLKS

DEAR OLD FOLKS: Why punish your son? He has enough problems. If anyone needs the relaxation and tranquility playing the piano provides, your son does. If you intend to give him a gift, buy him a piano—with no strings!

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula properly restores free breathing, so calm and easy to use that the symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is safe when used as directed, it can be used by anyone, even children, in tiny tablets called BRONTRON.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONTRON, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to loosen the swollen tissues and the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now return to restful sleep.

Get BRONTRON at all drug stores, or by mail.

Yuletide Concert Very Stimulating

By JULIEN MUSAFIA

For its pre-Christmas concert in the Family Series, the Long Beach Symphony Association presented a program Saturday night in the City College Auditorium which was not only successful in stimulating the spirit for the forthcoming festive season, but who reached excellence in intrinsic musical value.

This statement applies only to the second part of the concert which was devoted to the "Gift of Song," a Christmas opera composed by Mary Elizabeth Caldwell and orchestrated by Lauris Jones. The cast of nine, a chorale, stage sets and crew, were all brought here from Pasadena. The accompanying orchestra was our own symphony, conducted by Mr. Jones.

IT WAS a pleasant surprise to see that our neighboring city has the talent in its midst and the necessary enterprise to produce a spectacle of such finished artistry. To be sure, the opera itself is unpretentious. The subject matter deals with the supposed origin of the carol "Silent Night," some place near Salzburg in the middle of the last century.

The heroes are teen-agers, and the total length of the work runs little over one hour. Three settings, representing three locales, were on stage at the same time, but were lit successively as the action changed place. Light humor and touching family scenes sprinkled throughout the story, helped create the feeling of intimacy so well suited to the occasion.

THE MUSICAL score demonstrated the enormous talent of its composer and the ability of the orchestrator. The style was eclectic, as it selected its harmonies from the idiom of several Central European composers of the second half of the 19th century.

Wagner's influence was felt heavily in the beginning and in some of the last scenes. Nonetheless, Miss Caldwell succeeded in assimilating these various sources and transforming them into a convincing form of expression. Her sense of proportion and flair for drama were admirable. The farewell scene in the first act was such an example. Her ingenious counterpoints in the "Silent Night" were most refreshing in their subtlety and diversity.

LAKERS BATTLE NATS

By ROSS NEWMAN

Elgin Baylor, who has become addicted to 50-point scoring binges, leads the Lakers against the Syracuse Nationals tonight and coach Fred Schaus hopes his star is not soon to kick the nasty (to the opposition) habit.

The scene will be the L.A. Sports Arena and the Lakers will be shooting for their 13th win in 14 contests on home ground. Tipoff is 8:20 p.m.

Baylor will be shooting for his fourth consecutive 50-plus performance which would leave him just one shy of his total number of such performances all last season. He also recorded five 50-plus efforts in 1960-61.

"I WOULD certainly have to say," said Elgin after scoring 52 against San Francisco Saturday night, "that my shooting consistency is better than it's ever been. I know I'm shooting better than before I went in the service last season."

With Jerry West in a scoring slump, Baylor's brilliant streak has come at the right moment. West's best in three games since the Lakers returned home is 23 points, far below his 30-plus average.

"He'll just have to play his way out of the slump," said Schaus. "You can't bench a player of his caliber." Unfortunately, West may be in for another long evening tonight as an old nemesis, Larry Costello, will follow Zeke's every move.

Spivey Pours in 37 But L.B. Falls From Lead

KANSAS CITY—The Kansas City Steers, led by Larry Staverman's 37 points, handed the Long Beach Chiefs their second successive road-trip loss, 112-58, Sunday to move a game and one-half out front of the pack in the American Basketball League.

Gene Tormohlen tipped in a wild shot as the contest started and the Steers never looked back. Kansas City romped to an easy 34-21 first quarter lead and then let the subs play until halftime. The midway mark stood at 53-42.

Only bright spot for the Chiefs in the first half was the hot hand of big Bill Spivey. Spivey rammed in 11 field goals and finished the first half with 23 points. He scored 37 for the day.

STAVERMAN took over at the beginning of the second half and ripped Long Beach's defenses to shreds, hitting 11 field shots and nine free throws for 31 of his 37 points.

Long Beach's high-scoring forwards Ben Warley and Ron Horn had the coldest days of their ABL careers. Warley scored only three points and Horn four. Horn could not pick up a field goal.

Led by Staverman's second-half shooting, Kansas City blitzed to a 25-point lead midway through the third period as it waited to its 17th win of the season. The Steers have lost seven.

Gulls Knock Burbank From Unbeaten Ranks

By DOUG IVES

Burbank is reportedly the top team in the California Hockey League, but someone forgot to pass along that information to the Long Beach Gulls Sunday.

Putting on their finest show of the young season, the Gulls knocked the Stars from the unbeaten ranks with an easy 7-3 victory.

The win kept Long Beach's perfect record (3-0-1) intact and boosted the Gulls into a first-place tie with Burbank, each with 7 points.

BUT perhaps more important than the outcome of the game was the fact that 2,590 fans turned out to witness the world's fastest sport at the Long Beach Arena.

The attendance figure was less than Friday night's opener, but more impressive because the game was televised.

Eliminate the TV and the crowd probably would have doubled.

There were four Bentleys—Max, Lynn and Bev for Burbank and Doug for Long Beach—at rinkside, but it was 30-year-old veteran Ernie Rucks of the Gulls who stole the spotlight away from hockey's most well known family.

Rucks scored a hat trick (3 goals), a rare feat in hockey but even more unique in that he achieved the effort before the game was half over.

The star winger skated around two defenders and cashed in a 15-footer with 7:38 elapsed and gave Long Beach a 2-0 lead toward the end of the first period by slamming in a 7-footer.

RUCKS continued his onslaught eight minutes into the second period when he

60,353 See Rams Wage Stiff Battle in Season Windup

By JERRY WYNN

The 1962 season ended for the Rams just when it should have begun. For they never were better than in losing to the Green Bay Packers, 20-17, Sunday.

A crowd of 60,353 at the sunny Coliseum cheered its approval as the cellar-dwelling Rams almost produced the upset of the year over the world champions. And only a field goal that struck the cross bar denied them of a tie.

Not only did the crackling play of the Rams take some of the bitterness away from a 1-12-1 season and give promise of better fortunes in 1963, it may have been a major boost for coach Harland Sware, whose job now teeters on the brink of decision.

"I'm very proud of you," Sware told his players before opening the Ram dressing room to outsiders after the finish of the exciting contest. "You were a real fighting team out there, and I appreciate it."

The victory gave Green Bay its third consecutive Western Division title, but that already was insured by Detroit's loss to Chicago. The Packers ended the regular season with a brilliant record of 13-1, and now advance into the Championship Game against the Giants at New York, Dec. 30.

DID GREEN BAY LET UP Sunday when it learned midway in the second quarter of the loss by the Lions?

"I don't think we sagged at all," answered Packer coach Vince Lombardi. "I think we played hard. The Rams were just good. They have a lot of spirit, that club."

The spirit was there Sunday, but more important were outstanding performances on offense by Jon Arnett and Dick Bass and equally impressive play on defense by Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen and Marlin McKeever.

Arnett was the Arnett of old as he gained 103 yards in 16 carries and completed two passes—one which went for a touchdown. Bass was Bass, burrowing between tacklers for 78 yards in 16 runs to become the first Ram to accumulate more than 1,000 yards in a season. His total is 1,033.

Green Bay, however, had the best of the record-setting barrage. The punishing Packers set NFL team season records for number of touchdowns rushing (39) and total first downs (281), and had their great, rip-snorting full-back, Jim Taylor, eclipse the NFL record for touchdowns.

TAYLOR SCORED FOR HIS 19TH touchdown of the campaign on a 28-yard run in the second quarter to better by one the old record held jointly by Steve Van Buren of the Eagles and Jim Brown of the Browns.

Although blitzing the Ram line for 156 yards in 23 carries, the Bayou Bronco fell 53 yards short of Brown's season rushing record of 1,527.

The game was close and pressure-packed all the way with the Rams having a chance to win right into the final two minutes when a home run pass from Roman Gabriel to Jim Phillips narrowly missed its mark.

Gabriel had another fine day as he coolly withstood a fierce rush by the Packer defense and completed 10-of-20 passes for 80 yards. Bart Starr of Green Bay was bounded even more than Gabriel and his 16-for-32 for 205 yards was below past performances.

THE HERALDED VISITORS from Title Town U.S.A. opened the game as if it was going to have its expected picnic. The Packers stormed downfield 80 yards after taking the opening kickoff and scored on a 45-yard pass play from halfback Tom Moore to end Ron Kramer.

The power-house receiver blew by Charlie Britt and put aside Mike Henry with a straight arm en route to the end zone.

But the Rams surprisingly hit right back as Arnett boomed 40 yards on their first play to set up a 39-yard field goal by Danny Villanueva.

Green Bay went ahead, 13-3, early in the second quarter on a 63-yard drive in five plays climaxed by Taylor's 28-yard crack through a gaping hole in the Ram line. The extra point attempt by Jerry Kramer was blocked by Jones.

The Rams soon spurred to a first down on the Packer 29, but a subsequent 41-yard field goal try by Villanueva was wide of its mark. Moments later, they converted a break into their first touchdown and a 13-10 deficit.

ON A FOURTH DOWN PUNT attempt from the Packer 30, Max McGee fumbled the snapback, recovered, was bounded by the omnipresent Jones and threw a desperation pass which was intercepted by Olsen on the 20. The 265-pound rookie tackle imitated Taylor as he blasted by tacklers into the end zone.

The Jones-Olsen wrecking company was in business again near the end of the half when Deacon caused reserve quarterback John Roach to fumble and Olsen recovered on the Packer 46. The Rams again had to go for the field goal, and a 43-yard shot by Villanueva hit the cross bar and bounced back onto the playing field.

The Rams twice put together good drives in the scoreless third quarter, one which ended on the Packer 27 on a fumble by Bass, the other dying on a field goal miss from the 45.

Green Bay cracked the scoring ice for its final touchdown early in the fourth quarter on an 83-yard pass play from Starr to Paul Hornung which caught the Ram pass defense without a safetyman to cover on Hornung's side.

The Rams had massed to stop a short-yardage play as the Packers had a third-and-one on the 17. But Starr keenly faked a handoff to Taylor and lobbed a pass of about 15 yards to Hornung. The Golden Galloper was off to the races abetted by a flying block by McGee on pursuing Carver Shannon.

NOW TRAILING, 20-10, the Rams came back to

Bears Shock Lions, 3-0

Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 17, 1962 INDEPENDENT—Page C-3

CHICAGO (UPI)—Roger LeClerc's nine-yard field goal on the first play of the fourth quarter held up Sunday for a 3-0 Chicago Bear upset victory which doomed the Detroit Lions to the role of also-rans in the National Football League.

The Bears stood off two desperation charges down the field by the Lions, who were hoping against hope that a victory in Chicago plus a Green Bay loss in Los Angeles would put them into a playoff tie for the Western Division lead.

It was not to be. The Lions' eight-game winning streak was broken and they wound up the season with an 11-3 record, good for second place in the Western Division. The Bears wound up 9-5, tying their record of 1956 when they won the division championship and nailing down third place in the Western Division race.

THE BEARS literally stole the ball away from the Lions in a chalking up their lonesome marker: Joe Fortunato twist-ed-the ball from Ken Webb

THE PALMER METHOD

USE THE RIGHT SIDE TO FULL ADVANTAGE

If your shots are lacking distance, it may be that you're not putting your right side to its best use. Turn well away from the ball in the backswing and get those hands up high (see illustration #1).

At finish, your hips must reverse the backswing turn (see illustration #2) and must always face the target. The tip-off is the action of the right leg here, as the knee bends toward the target in the correct finish.

Illustration #3 shows a completely deactivated right side. The golfer's legs are both stiff and his hips have not pivoted at all toward the target. He has made a poor swing, almost using only his hands and arms.

score on a 69-yard, eight-play advance. Runs by Bass and Gabriel carried to a first down on the Packer 22. After Bass sped to the 15, Arnett—on the option play—passed to Carroll Dale for the touchdown.

There was still 7:01 remaining, and the crowd roared as the Ram defense dug in to force a Packer punt. The Rams took possession on their 25 with enough time left for one final drive. But after one first down and the hold-your-breath Gabriel bomb to Phillips, Arnett was stopped cold on a fourth-and-two from the Ram 45.

Szare called the game "the best we've played all season, better than the win over San Francisco." Unfortunately, it was too little and came too late. The worst Ram season is now history.

TITLE BOMBARDS DALLAS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Y. A. Tittle, the bald eagle with the strong wing, threw six touchdown passes to set a National Football League season record of 33 Sunday in leading the playoff-bound Giants to a 41-31 victory over the Dallas Cowboys.

The 35-year-old Giant quarterback, who had been sidelined for a rest but was sent back into the game when re-before calling on Agajanian for a field goal from the 19.

In the second period Davidson hooked up with fullback Alan Miller on a 74-yard scoring pass, Miller making the catch at the Pat's 44 and powering his way to the end zone.

Oakland took the second half kickoff and marched 61 yards in six plays, with Bo Robertson's keeping catch of a 34-yard Davidson pass setting up fullback Clemon Daniels' seven yard scoring gallop around left end.

Agajanian added a 21-yard field goal in the final period.

field for 57 yards until Wayne Walker caught him from behind on the four. Once again the Bears were unable to move over the goal line for a touchdown.

THEN THE Lions came back and they almost made it. Apparently trapped inside his own end zone, Earl Morray who quarterbacked the last half for the Lions, looped a 31-yard pass to Pat Studstill.

Another 24-yard pass to Studstill was good and Dan Lewis ran 10 yards to the Bear 33. Then, Morray went far back, saw Gail Cogdill in the end zone and threw, but

Rockets Win Forfeit as Umpire Attacked

Long Beach claimed a tie for second place in the Winter Baseball League, Sunday when National League umpire Mel Steiner handed the Rockets a forfeit win over the L.A. Eagles.

Steiner was filling in for Marv Taylor and before the game was over he experienced one of the roughest afternoons of his colorful career.

During a four-run rally in the sixth, Rocket shortstop Nick Hopkins belted a drive to center field which the fielder couldn't come up with.

IT WAS obvious to all there that the ball had not been caught. The Eagles' left fielder Manis Mitchell, thought otherwise and began a loud argument with Steiner.

Mitchell finally was ejected from the game. However he continued to berate Steiner from the dugout until the Seal Beach ump demanded Mitchell leave the park.

Mitchell then raced from the dugout and attacked Steiner landing several blows. Steiner received a sprained finger and a cut over his eye along with a broken
